

Photographs taken by the local Police immediately after the box is found

The following photographs show a hole that was freshly dug, and accommodated the box completely. Do you think that the hole is big or deep enough to accommodate the box and is it freshly dug?

Photographs taken by the local Police immediately after the box is found

No fingerprints or DNA of the people who found the box or that of Dr. Randeep Mann were found, however, what was found only pointed towards the handling by a BATFE agent only.

Photographs taken by the local Police immediately after the box is found

Nothing was found in Randeep Mann's house or office that matched the plastic bags, duct tape, or anything else found at this or any other scene or location.

Photographs taken by the local Police immediately after the box is found

However, ammunition box without Randeep Mann's DNA or fingerprints but with similar serial numbers were found in his garage, although all other such boxes were in the house.

Photographs taken by the local Police immediately after the box is found

The garage was accessible to the law enforcement agents who this was considered as overwhelming evidence of a crime committed by Randeep Mann... does it even look plausible???

